ENUMCLAW INCLUSIVE PLAYGROUND
WHERE EVERYONE CAN PLAY

Why do playgrounds matter?

Play is a critical part of the social, emotional, cognitive and physical development of every child. Unfortunately, the vast majority of playgrounds deny children with disabilities and critical illnesses the opportunity for exercise, entertainment and social interactions which other children enjoy. In fact, only a small percentage of fully accessible playgrounds exist within our nation and these are insufficient to serve 43 million Americans with disabilities. An Inclusive Playground is specifically designed to remove physical and social barriers so ALL children, with and without disabilities and/or critical illnesses, can play side by side with their peers and families.

Our Vision

To create a community where individuals of all ages and abilities feel welcomed, valued, and included—a place where friendships grow, barriers disappear, and everyone experiences the joy of play and belonging.

Our Mission

Through the collaborative efforts of Spurs N Halos, the Rotary Club of Enumclaw, Enumclaw Specialized Recreation, and the City of Enumclaw, our mission is to create an inclusive, accessible playground where people of all ages and abilities can play, explore, and connect. Together, we are building a welcoming space that removes barriers, celebrates differences, fosters friendships, and creates a lasting sense of belonging within our community.

Together we are creating a playground where limitations are forgotten and differences are celebrated.

Meet the families inspiring this playground

Inclusion means creating a place where every child is welcomed, valued, and belongs.

Meet Avery

Avery is fourteen and is non-speaking autistic. He communicates through sign language and an AAC device. He loves being outside, listening to music, and exploring his community. Avery has so much to share with the world, even without spoken words.

For years, traditional playground equipment kept experiences like swinging out of reach. It wasn't until his family visited a park with an accessible swing that he finally had the chance to experience that simple joy.

For Avery's family, the Enumclaw Inclusive Playground represents more than access. It means a welcoming place where Avery can explore, share experiences with other children, and feel included from the very beginning.

Thoughtful design gives children of all abilities opportunities to play together, connect, and belong. When we design intentionally for everyone, every child benefits.

Meet Max

Max is 10 years old and loves the freedom to explore and discover new things. He was born with Down syndrome and deafness, wears cochlear implants, and has also been diagnosed with autism. Max is nonverbal and experiences the world in his own unique way.

At the playground, Max likes to take his time exploring and processing before deciding what to do. Going down a slide may require extra time, patience, and reassurance. His cochlear implants allow him to hear us as we talk him through the experience. However, we often remove them on equipment that creates static electricity, making communication more challenging.

Inclusive playgrounds are our family's first choice, but they aren't always close enough to visit regularly. Having one in our own community would give Max more opportunities to explore independently, build confidence, and play alongside other children.

For our family, this playground would mean more than accessible equipment. It would be a place where Max could enjoy being a kid—and where children of all abilities could build friendships and learn from one another.

"Inclusion is not bringing people into what already exists; it is making a new space, a better space for everyone."

— Dr. George Dei

The Enumclaw Inclusive Playground will bring this vision to life in King and Pierce Counties, creating a place where people of all ages and abilities can enjoy outdoor play, connect with others, and build healthy habits. Bringing this playground to life will take the support of communities in King and Pierce Counties—including churches, businesses, foundations, clubs, and families.

The playground will be located behind the public library. Once fully funded, the City of Enumclaw will take ownership of the playground. We invite you to drive by, see the space, and imagine the possibilities. Your generosity—through financial contributions or in-kind gifts—will help create more than an accessible playground. It will create a safe, welcoming place where people of all abilities can play together, build friendships, and experience the joy of belonging.

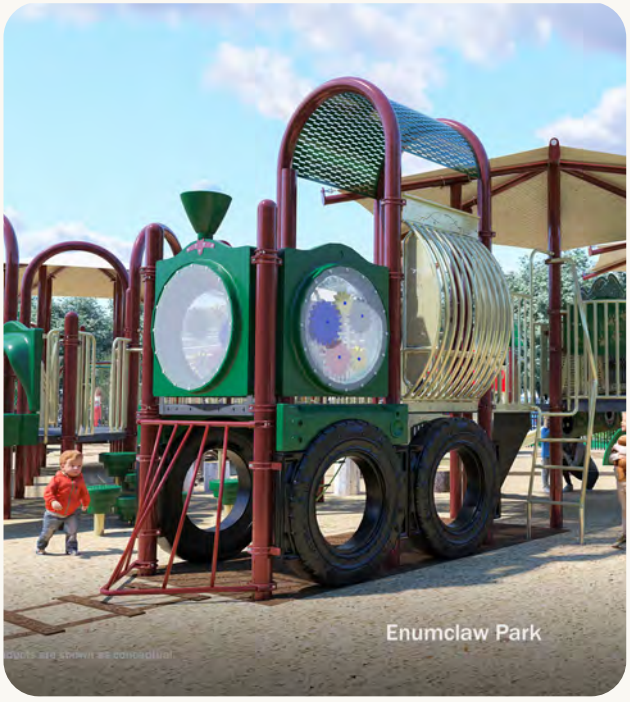

Please consider supporting the playground in one of the following ways:

• Give to the general fund to help complete essential features, including bathrooms, fencing, accessible safety surfacing, and shaded places to rest.

• Sponsor a piece of playground equipment to help bring inclusive play experiences to life.

• Contribute an in-kind gift of materials, equipment, or your time and talents. Opportunities may include concrete work, site grading, landscaping, and other construction needs.

• Hold a fundraiser.

If you can contribute to our efforts in this way, please speak directly to a committee member.

Who is Unlimited Play?

Unlimited Play is a nonprofit organization building inclusion through the power of play. We plan, design, and build universally inclusive playgrounds that welcome every child, of every ability, to play together. These are not separate or simplified spaces; they are dynamic, destination playgrounds that challenge, engage, and inspire all children.

For children with disabilities, playgrounds are often places of exclusion. Unlimited Play changes that by creating environments where children of all abilities can play side-by-side, developing physical strength, social skills, confidence, and imagination. Our playgrounds are intentionally designed to support sensory, social, emotional, and physical development, while still offering exciting, age-appropriate challenges for typically developing children.

As a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, we partner with communities, schools, and municipalities to create inclusive play spaces that promote health, wellness, dignity, and connection. These playgrounds remove social barriers, foster empathy, and become beloved community destinations.

Because one child left out is one too many, and every child deserves the freedom to play.
